

Cherry growers voting on promotion program

Michigan cherry growers now are voting on a promotion and research program for their industry. Ballots were sent to all growers by the Michigan Department of Agriculture on Jan. 11. The growers will have until Feb. 10 to return their votes.

The program on which the referendum is being held provides for an assessment of $3 per ton on all cherries sold for processing. All growers who sell more than $800 worth of cherries would be required to contribute. The funds collected would be used to promote Michigan cherries and to develop new cherry markets. Provision has been made to do merchandising and market research work. The fund would be controlled by a committee composed of both tart and sweet cherry growers.

Under Michigan law, the growers would re-vote on the program five years after it was put into effect. The Michigan Cherry Commission would be suspended while the program was active.

Based on the results of a public hearing held in Lansing, Dec. 11, the Michigan commissioners of agriculture gave the director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture a go-ahead on holding the referendum. At the hearing, cherry growers gave enthusiastic support to the program. Through personal testimony, letters and telegrams, the growers endorsed the proposal by 15 to 1.

Growers voting on the program are urged not to confuse it with the federal marketing orders or with the new cherry marketing program of the Michigan Farm Bureau (MACMA).

Harry Overhiser, president of the Michigan Association of Cherry Producers which is sponsoring the vote, is asking all Michigan cherry producers to vote and get their ballots in on time. Overhiser reports that the program is the culmination of eight years of effort by the association's directors to meet the promotion and research needs of the Michigan cherry industry.

All cherry growers on record were sent a ballot. However, if a grower did not receive a ballot, he can obtain one, plus voting instructions from his county agent's office.

Grotesque figures perform at Lawrence games

Something new has been added at Lawrence high school basketball games. These grotesque figures appear with cheerleaders at the opening of the varsity contests. They strut along the sidelines, do funny little dances and generally try to lift the spirits of Lawrence fans—which is pretty easy to do these days. Actually, these short-legged characters, are eighth graders, pretty well disguised with wadded-up newspapers and decorated pillow cases for faces and heads. (Day Spring photo.)

Soil district meets Saturday

The 24th annual meeting of the Van Buren Soil Conservation district will be held Saturday, Jan. 27, at the county Farm Bureau building on Red Arrow highway, starting at 10 a.m. Favors will be available for all and door prizes will be awarded.

Reports will be made on district activities during the year, and reports from officers and progress reports by Soil Conservation Service personnel will be presented. Two directors are to be elected for three-year terms.

Free lunch will be served at noon.

Michael D. Moore, assistant area forester, will speak on "Soil Conservation through Forestry in Latin America." Moore served as a volunteer forester with the Peace Corps in El Salvador, and his talk will be illustrated with slides of his country.

Cities to get more funds for streets

Estimates of increased revenue which area towns may expect as a result of higher state weight and gas taxes have been prepared by the state highway department. More than 500 municipalities will receive an estimated $21.3-million in additional revenue.

The department said that estimates are based on predicted economic conditions. Towns will share nearly a full year of increased gas tax revenues this year. Weight tax increases will take effect in November and the full amount is reflected in 1969 estimates.

Lawrence, which received $13,140 from the motor vehicle highway fund in 1967, is estimated to receive $14,602 in 1968 and $16,943 in 1969.

Hartford, with receipts of $23,431 in 1967, is expected to receive $27,018 in 1968 and $31,855 in 1969.

Watervliet, which last year received $19,105 is expected to receive $21,644 in 1968 and $25,321 in 1969.

Coloma, with 1967 receipts of $19,111, is expected to receive $21,822 this year and $25,404 in 1969.

Decatur, which received $21,192 in 1967, is estimated to receive $23,826 in 1968 and $27,783 in 1969. Bangor, with 1967 receipts of $27,774, is expected to receive $28,402 in 1968 and $33,426 in 1969.

The money is earmarked for use on local roads and streets. County road commissions and the state highway department also will share in the tax increases.

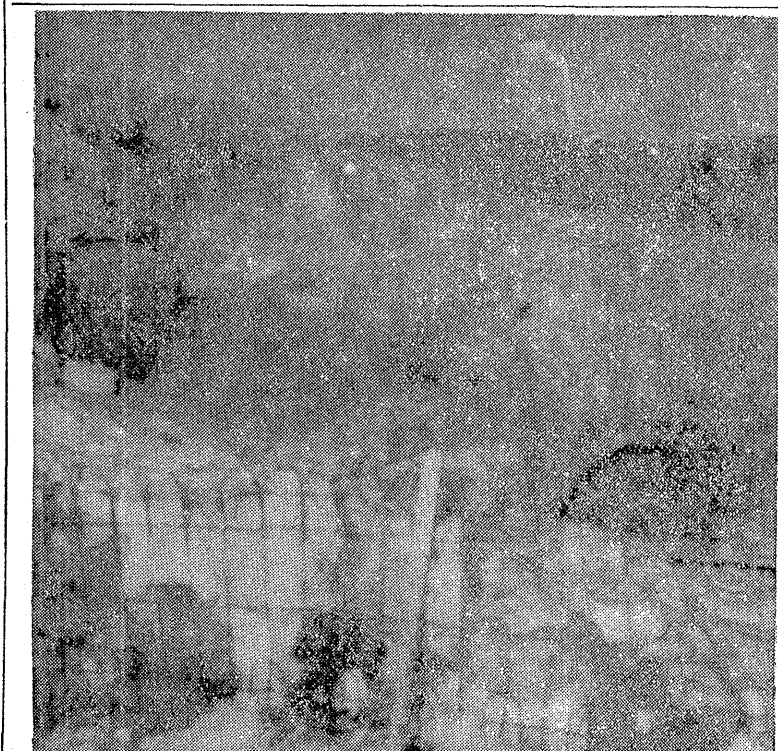

Bank's earnings show 14% gain

LAWRENCE — Net operating earnings for 1967 of $744,424.82, a 14 per cent increase over the previous year, were announced by American National Bank and Trust Co., which has an office at Lawrence. Earnings represent $2.48 per share on the 300,000 shares outstanding, compared to $2.27 on 288,000 shares the year before.

Total resources of the bank increased more than 50 per cent in the last 36 months. In December, the bank merged with the three-office Mankin bank and issued 12,000 shares of stock. Another American National office was opened in Kalamazoo in July.

A proposed 10 per cent stock dividend will come up for a vote at the annual stockholders' meeting on Jan. 30.

Snow tunnels can be dangerous

Building tunnels in snowbanks can be fun, but they also can be dangerous, especially when the snow begins to melt and the piles soften. Watervliet puts its new police car in service

Watervliet's new police car, shown here with Police Chief Victor Bianchi, has been put into service, replacing one that was damaged in a Benton Harbor collision just a few days before it was to be turned in on this vehicle. A car ran a stoplight and struck the Watervliet patrol car as it was returning from taking a prisoner to the county jail. Bianchi put his own car in service as a city patrol car until preparation of the new unit for service could be completed. (Day Spring photo.)

Sparked by Sister Lakes group, women aid state home patients

Watervliet wins No. 3 by downing Indians 66 to 58

WATERVLIET — The Panthers scored their third victory of the current season Saturday night when they inflicted the ninth straight defeat on the Hartford Indians, 66 to 58.

Watervliet led all the way, taking a margin of 18 to 12 in the first period and stretching it to 32-25 at the end of the first half. The two quintets played the third quarter on even terms, each scoring 16 points, but the Panthers edged further ahead in the fourth period, 18 to 17.

The Panthers claimed the victory by making two more field goals and four more free throws than the Indians did. The Indians were charged with 29 fouls and the Panthers with 27.

Dave Day led the Panther scoring with 17 points, followed by Craig Cole with 13. Bob Koshar, usually the Panthers' leading scorer, collected nine.

Dennis Hollar was the only Indian to hit double figures, with 11 points. Hartford's regular top scorer Bill Meachum, matched Koshar with nine.

The victory broke a four-game losing streak for the Panthers and gives them a 3-6 record for the season.

Both teams will play back to back contests this weekend. Watervliet will meet the Ponies at St. Joseph Friday night and on Saturday will go to Benton Harbor to play St. Johns. Hartford will play host to Eau Claire Friday night and will travel to Decatur Saturday night.

Tigers whip Bulldogs by 28 points

LAWRENCE — The Tigers, who thought they did pretty well to defeat Covert by seven points in the second game of the season, swamped the Bulldogs 79 to 51 here Friday night.

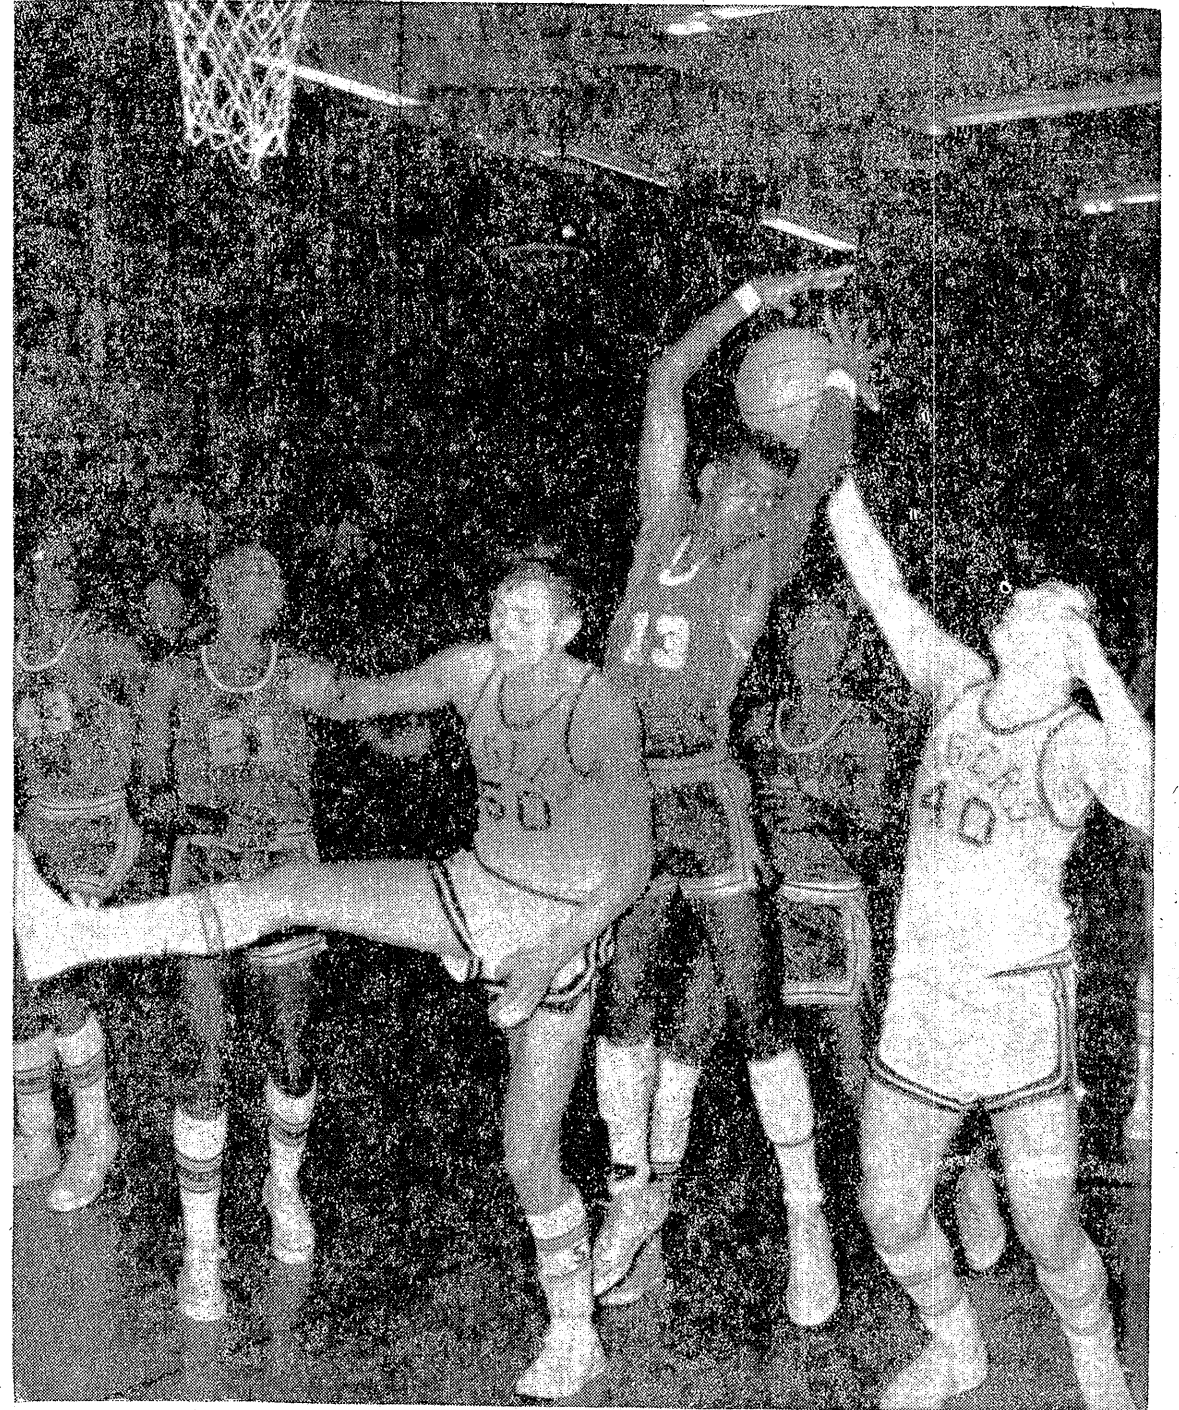

It was the fifth straight win for the Tigers, and although there are seven games left in the regular season, signs of tournament fever already are in evidence among Tiger fans.

The Bulldogs never were close as the Tigers shot a 43 per cent field goal average and controlled the backboards.

Covert scored just seven points in the first quarter while the Tigers tallied 19. Although Covert's best quarter was the second, Lawrence had piled up a 41-26 lead at the half. By the end of the third quarter, the Tigers held a 21-point lead, and added seven more to their margin in the fourth quarter.

Thirteen Lawrence players saw action, with 11 of them scoring. Joe Capps led the parade with 20 points, followed by Larry Streffling with 19 and Larry Jacobs with 10.

Lawrence now has won eight games and lost only to the Al-Van league leaders, Bloomingdale and Lawton. The Tigers will travel to Saugatuck Friday for another league game.

Team displays gymnastics as Tigers swamp Covert

Bill Kable (No. 40, at right) gets off a shot for Lawrence despite the fantastic gymnastics going on in the Covert game Friday night. Covert's Reginald Smith (No. 13) tries a backward over-the-head guarding maneuver and Lawrence's Larry Jacobs (No. 50) prepares to head them off at the pass, as he throws up a leg to block out any Joe who might come near his buddy. The Tigers had things pretty much their own way throughout the game as they beat Covert by 28 points. (Day Spring photo).

Bucks beat Coloma 89 to 68

COLOMA—The Comets proved to be a stepping stone to the Blossomland conference lead when the Bucks downed Coloma 89 to 68 Friday night. It was the seventh straight win for the Bucks.

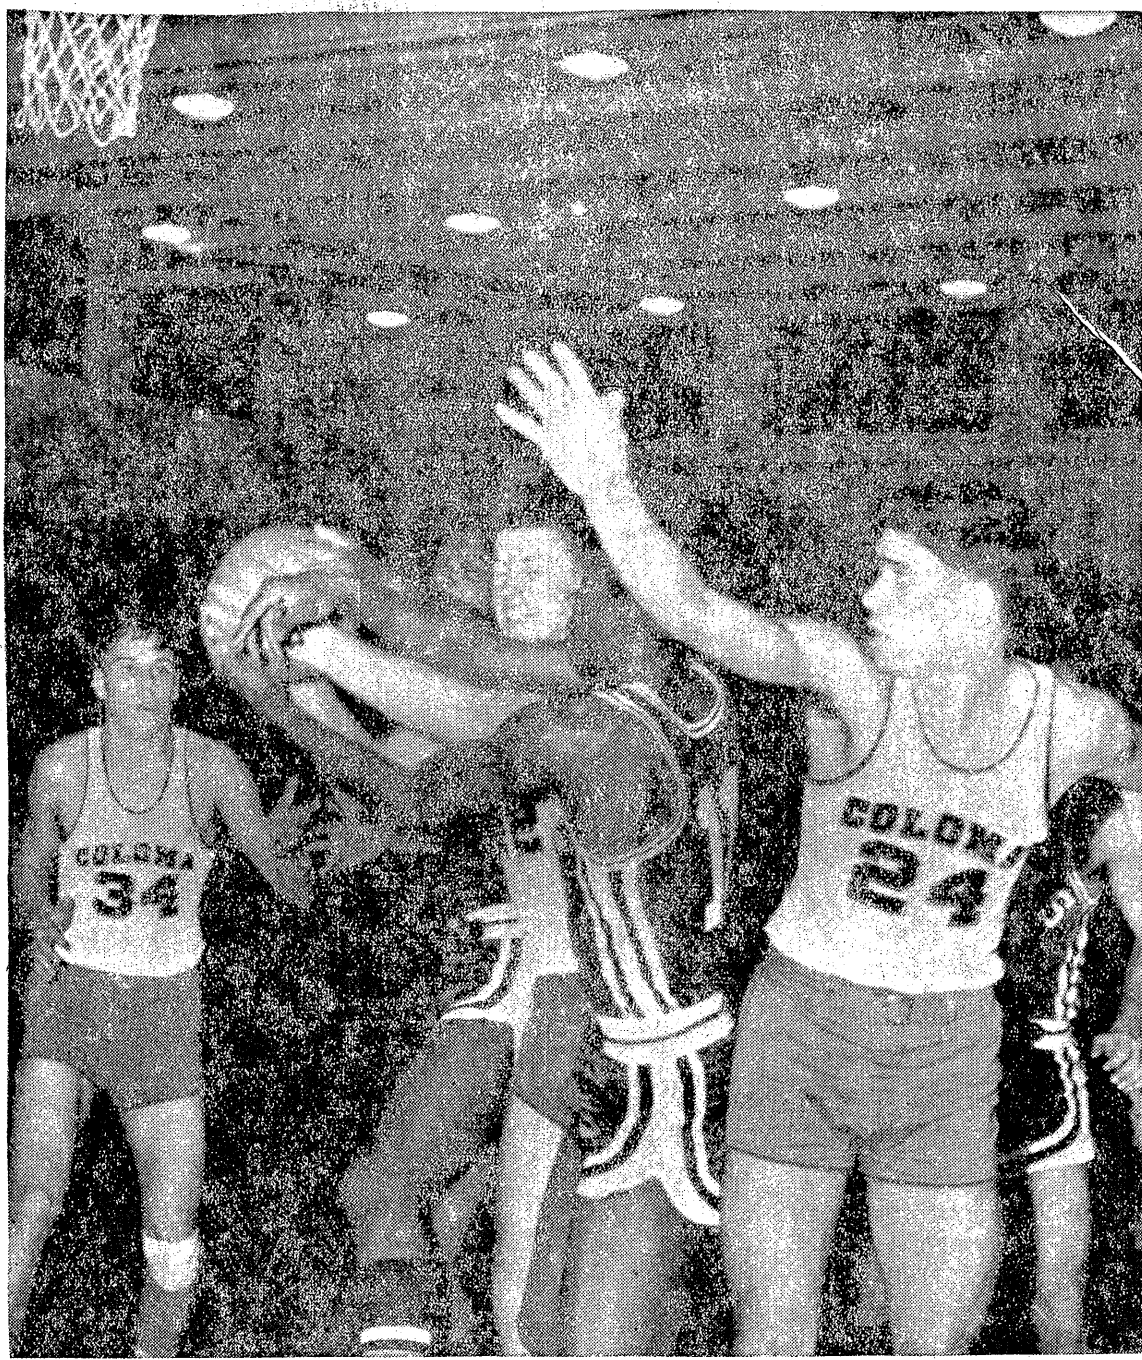

Buchanan doubled the score on the Comets in the first quarter, out-pointing them 20 to 10, and added three more in the second frame to lead 42-29 at the half.

Coloma gained a two-point edge in the high-scoring third quarter, collecting 27 to Buchanan's 25, but the Bucks broke loose again in the final period and poured in 22 points while holding the Comets to 12.

Hurting the Comets was the loss of their top scorer, Joel Carlson, who missed the game as a flu victim. In spite of this, Coloma's 68 points were the most scored against Buchanan by any team this season.

Jeff Thomas was high-point man for Coloma with 23 markers, 13 of them on free throws. He was followed by Ron Kelly with 22.

Coloma now has five losses and two wins for the season, and stands 2-3 in the conference. The Comets will travel to Edwardsburg Friday night to meet the Eddies in another league contest.

Plenty of hands strive for ball, but Comets won't yield any other team this season. (Day Spring photo by Phil Gifford).

Raiders overpower Panthers

WATERVLIET—Decatur overpowered the Panthers Friday night to inflict the seventh loss of the season on Watervliet by a 76 to 55 score.

Decatur pulled away to a 19-9 first quarter lead and was ahead 35-21 at the half. The Raiders out-pointed the Panthers 20 to 18 in the third quarter. Although Watervliet cut the winners' margin to eight points during the fourth quarter, the Raiders finished strong to outscore Watervliet 21-16 for the period.

The Panthers picked up only five points from the free throw line, while Decatur made 14, but the Raiders also held a six-bucket edge on field goals.

Bob Koshar again led the Panther scoring with 19 points, followed by Craig Cole with 13 and Dick Woodruff with 10.

Bees inflict 8th defeat on Indians

HARTFORD—The Indians yielded to a fourth-quarter surge by Bridgman Friday night and suffered their eighth straight defeat as the Bees pulled off a 68-58 victory.

Bridgman took a one-point lead in the opening quarter but Hartford kept the game on even terms until the final period when the Bees added nine points to their margin.

Free throws made the big difference. Each team sank 21 field goals, but Bridgman scored 26 points at the free throw line while Hartford picked up 10. Only 15 personals were called on the Bees, while Hartford was charged with 28.

Bill Meachum scored 22 points to lead for Hartford, the only Indian to hit double figures, although seven Hartford players made the scoring column.

Bark Stripping On White Birch A Menace, Says WSU Biologist

DETROIT—The white birch, one of Michigan's most striking trees, has a beauty appreciated by the State's winter visitors and summer resorters alike.

In both seasons the tree's gleaming white trunk can often be seen in contrast to the greenery and dark-colored barks of surrounding woods. Occasionally its clumps form an entire section of woodland, as in the picture.

In earlier history, the State's "coureurs de bois" and settlers used white birch bark for building fires and as a substitute for writing paper. Indians used it for canoes, wigwam coverings and utensils.

Today's admirers use it for many decorative purposes, and their enthusiasm is resulting in harmful stripping of trunks, points out a Wayne State University botanist, Dr. Claude M. Rogers.

"White birch bark can give its greatest return to beauty lovers by remaining on the tree," Dr. Rogers says.

The outer bark of older trees may peel naturally and harmlessly in fine shreds or in curled, papery strips, he points out. This perhaps adds to the temptation to peel with a knife. But when the firm, white outer bark itself is removed, it is never renewed. Thus once a dark scar is made, it stays.

"Not only is the tree unsightly, but the bare trunk is then made more vulnerable to attack by fungi and other organisms. It is when a section is stripped in depth that real harm results," says the botanist. "The tree's food-conducting tissues between roots and leaves are in the inner bark. If a complete circle of this inner bark were to be removed, the roots would literally starve for lack of food and the tree would soon die."

The eastern half of the Upper Peninsula contains more than one-half of the total volume of white birch in the state, the balance being about equally divided between the west half of the Upper Peninsula and the entire Lower Peninsula.

A Tragedy of Errors by Jerry Marcus

Jerry Marcus
"Let me off at the next accident, will you, Ed?"
The Travelers Safety Service

Driver error is involved in 4 out of 5 highway accidents.

State police launch campaign to recruit 225 more troopers

With legislative approval to fill 225 more trooper positions, the state police are intensifying recruiting in special efforts to reach that training goal by midyear.

"This makes it an especially opportune time for qualified young men to apply for enlistment," Davids stressed. "I also want to emphasize that the state police are an equal opportunity employer and are actively seeking candidates from all groups."

The director added that trooper pay has been greatly improved in recent years and that a proposed pay increase under consideration would become effective July 1.

Present bi-weekly pay in the trooper class begins at $257.60 and through regular increases climbs to $361.60 after six years. The proposed increase would raise these biweekly scales respectively to $272.88 and $383.20. Trooper pay begins with the first day of recruit school.

The department's extra efforts in this intensified training program include a team of several specialist recruiters to expedite the field processing of candidates.

Eligible to apply for enlistment are young men, married or single, who are citizens of the United States, between 21 and 30 years old, high school graduates and at least 5 feet 9 inches tall with weight ranges of 150 to 230 pounds in proportion to height. They must be of good moral character and free of any serious arrest record.

Interested young men can apply at any state police post or by writing to the Michigan Civil Service Commission at Lansing.

Troopers work a 40-hour five-day week and get paid for overtime. They receive free uniforms and equipment, get two paid vacations a year, paid sick leave and longevity pay. Promotions also bring pay increases.

Congressional Comment
by Your Congressman
Ed Hutchinson

Will the real "wooden soldiers of the status quo" stand up please? I have a hunch that this tag which the President recently tried to hang on the congressional minority will come back to haunt him in the coming months.

The real dogmatists in congress today are those so-called liberals who are still trying to fit the solutions of the 1930's to the problem of the sixties.

But there are encouraging signs that even a few prominent liberals are beginning to recognize the consequences of their past attitudes and are coming to realize that they too have something to protect in our society. Hopefully, the awakening will not come too late.

It was the respected liberal and "urbanologist," Daniel P. Moynihan, who said in a recent speech: "The federal government is good at collecting taxes and is rather bad at disbursing services. Liberals must divest themselves of the notion that the nation, especially the cities of the nation, can be run from agencies in Washington."

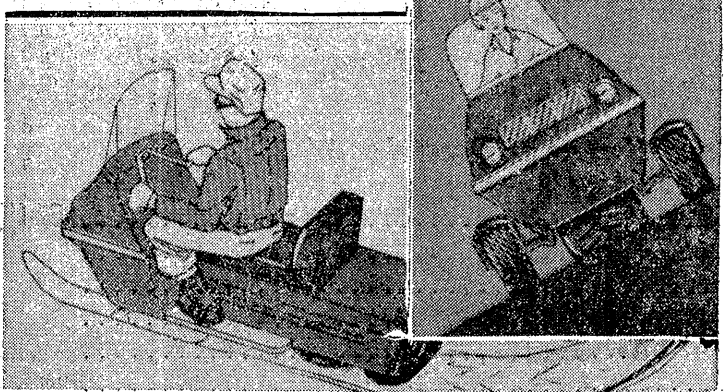

He urged liberals to "see more clearly that their essential interest is in the stability of the social order and that, given the present threats to that stability, it is necessary to seek out and make much more effective alliances with political conservatives who share that concern and who recognize that unyielding rigidity is just as much a threat to the continuity of things as is an anarchic desire for change."

One cannot charge the congressional minority with "unyielding rigidity." It is, rather, the President's own party members who must ultimately appear in uniform

With all taxes paid, does extra dollar in the pocket mean trouble?

I THINK I'm in big trouble. I was going through my pockets today and I found something I can't explain—a dollar. Yes, a whole dollar. I've paid my income tax, and my state tax. I've paid amusement, tax, sales tax, hospital tax and gasoline tax.

I've paid the liquor tax, the cigarette tax, the automobile tax, the school tax and the tax to put up a bridge at the other end of the country.

When I pay my lawyer 600 bucks I pay tax on that—and so does he. I pay tax on the money I give to the baby-sitter and the real estate salesman and the man who makes out my income tax form each year.

So how come I've still got a dollar? OBVIOUSLY, I've made a mistake somewhere and overlooked a tax.

But I distinctly remember paying my road tax, the excise tax, the defense tax and the tax to provide more scholarships for kids to go to the university so they can tell me how rotten the system is.

I've paid my taxes for sewers, bombs, wheat for India, the senate, hockey rinks and public transportation. Yes, I've paid my water tax.

And when they charge us an air tax to clean up the pollution, I'll pay that, too.

I confess I haven't paid my death taxes yet, But I will.

I've paid my taxes for parks, fire protection, law enforcement, I've paid my taxes to help the farmer, the Indian and the unmarried mother.

I wouldn't dream of going fishing owning a dog or getting married without first paying the tax.

I pay taxes on the toothpaste I use when I get up in the morning and I pay taxes on the pillow I rest my head on when the day is over.

HOW COME I've got this dollar in my pocket? where did it come from? Did somebody put it there to get me in trouble? Is there a tax when you find a dollar like that? I'm not sure.

But I know the government is going to be sore when they find out I've got it—Des Moines (Ia.) Register.

Michigan's Extra-Low Waters Discussed by WSU Geologist

DETROIT — "Where has all the water gone?" is a question many Michigan lakeside dwellers have been asking these days. Prof. Andrew J. Mozola of Wayne State University's geology staff, who is currently doing ground water research in southeastern Michigan, explains the phenomenon.

"The lowered water level of the Great Lakes and in many of the State's 11,000 inland lakes are results of a drought condition that has prevailed in the Michigan area since 1960," says Dr. Mozola.

"Lake levels fluctuate in response to climate," he explains, "and in turn depend upon what we call the 'ground water level.' This is the height to which the ground is saturated with water. Constant checking of wells maintained for observation throughout the State has shown that this level is declining."

The effect of the drought is also reflected in decreased stream flow.

"Michigan's water resources are in heavy demand," Dr. Mozola points out. "Industry uses water for production processes, cities use it for drinking and removing waste, the public uses it for recreation and fishing, farmers irrigate their land with it, the State's wildlife is dependent upon it, and Great Lakes shippers need a maximum water level to negotiate the lakes' channels."

"Michigan must also share the Great Lakes with other states and Canada, all of which have a right to draw water from them," says Dr. Mozola.

One of the current methods of conserving water is the building of dams to create lakes, he points out. These increase ground water storage and, because of the tendency of the ground water level to reach an equilibrium with the lake level, there is an overall increase in the height of the water table in the immediate area.

Termination of the drought is expected by geologists who base their opinions upon the fact that the dry condition is "local" to the Great Lakes area, while many other areas of the country are currently having more than their usual rainfall.

Too much reliance on traffic controls can prove dangerous

"It is dangerous to put too much reliance on traffic controls," a trucking industry spokesman said today.

Jerry Gilles, safety director of the Michigan Trucking association, warned, "When you are approaching a green light, it really means just one thing—you can proceed if it is safe to do so. The fact that the law requires the driver approaching the red light on the cross-street to stop is no guarantee that he will."

"In Michigan and throughout the United States, about seven per cent of the fatal accidents involve violations of stop signs or traffic signals."

"If another driver runs a red light and you are involved in an accident with him, it is quite likely that he will receive a ticket for the law violation, but this is small consolation for the resultant vehicle damage and possible death or injury. It is even worse if the accident could have been completely avoided if you had been a little more alert, or a little less dependent on somebody else doing the proper thing."

"The fact is that many accidents are avoided because one driver saw what he could do to avoid involvement and he did it regardless of the requirements of the law. Many other accidents could be averted if more drivers accepted the additional responsibility to avoid potential accident-breeding situations as a matter of course," Gilles declared.

"Being alert for drivers running the red light is just one example. Another traffic control device that doesn't promise you safety is the stop sign, and," Gilles went on, "You need to keep an eye out for drivers who look like they aren't going to stop. At a blind intersection, it is smart driving to slow down enough so that you can stop safely if somebody comes busting out from the side road."

"Many new features of highway and vehicle construction, and new laws and control devices have been widely heralded as solutions to the traffic accident problem. Many of them have undoubtedly helped to reduce accidents. Some of them have served to make traffic flow more smoothly, but we are still having great numbers of accidents. However, the careful and alert driver can and does stay out of accidents and nobody has come up with a substitute for him, yet," Gilles concluded.

State museum has Indian exhibit

A new exhibit room depicting strong European influence on the early Indians of Michigan has been dedicated at the Michigan historical museum.

The new exhibit is the forerunner to several others now being prepared at the museum, officials said.

The Indian exhibits room covers much of the early Indian culture with special emphasis on how European culture influenced Michigan's Redmen and altered their customs and mode of living, secretary of State James Hare said. Michigan's Indians were quick to adapt to European ways after permanent missions and military outposts were set up at Sault Ste. Marie and Michilimackinac by French explorers in the late 1600's. Actually, the French, who first visited the northern Michigan area in the 1620's, were interested in (1) the abundant and rich mineral wealth; (2) the opportunity of helping to convert the Indians to Christianity; and (3) colonization of the New World.

European goods rapidly replaced less efficient stone age implements. Iron kettles, knives, axes, and hoes supplanted stone varieties. Glass beads and cloth replaced native beads and animal skins. The Indians traded for these goods by providing Europeans with beaver pelts, which were in great demand in Europe.

The Indians also rapidly developed a taste for "firewater," enjoying the white man's brandy and rum.

Occupations changed drastically. Farming replaced hunting and fishing, with French and English posts requiring a large food supply.

Indian burials were changed with crucifixes and metal arm bands the principal European influences.

While the Indians were more profoundly influenced by European ways and culture, the pattern was reversed in the matter of transportation. The settlers adopted most of the Indian methods of moving about. Canoes, snowshoes, and moccasins were ideally suited for traveling in northern forest lands, was in the methods of waging war.

The most pronounced change was in the methods of waging war, with the introduction of firearms and use of iron knives and tomahawks. Indian military tactics changed also from a reliance on small war parties and the element of surprise and stealth. European type warfare was adopted. The siege of Detroit is a good example.

Sault bridge has record high traffic

The International bridge authority has reported it recorded record annual traffic and revenue again in 1967.

James E. Broohy, authority chairman, said 761,828 vehicles crossed the bridge at Sault Ste. Marie during the year, a 3.6 per cent increase over 1966. Revenues totaled $911,426, a 6.2 per cent increase.

The bridge has recorded steady annual gains in traffic and revenue since it was opened in October, 1962. This is the first time revenues have exceeded $900,000 and the second time traffic has exceeded 700,000.

More than 3.6 million vehicles have crossed the bridge since it was opened.
